Treasury Department,

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR OF THE MINT,

Washington, D. C., Jany. 2, 1850.

Sir:

It is probable that in addition to the gold and minor coinage which will be required of your Mint to meet the demand of the Treasury, and the public, that it will be necessary for you to coin during the current month 1,350,000 — standard silver dollars.

Should you not be able to do this wording regular hours, you are hereby authorized and instructed to work overtime in such departments as may be found necessary, also to employ any additional force required to accomplish this result.

Very respectfully,

Horatio C. Bruchard

Director.
